

Cape View

LOCATION: TASMAN BAY, NEW ZEALAND

---

Inspired by the twisting body and scaly skin of a tuatara this serpentine shaped house basks in the sun over looking Tasman Bay.

The design was deliberately conceived so the built form separates the public entry from the garden and outdoor living spaces beyond.

Within the house the volumes are expressed with the living room overlooking the studio space below. The arrow slot windows invite you down the curved stairwell to the guest spaces below.

Although dictated by a limited budget the house provides three bedrooms and two bathrooms with living spaces that borrow from the vastness of the view and connect seamlessly to the outdoor dining and fireplace area that in turn connects to the generous lawn and garden.

A small house with a generous and gracious feel this design provides value for money.